Child Dies Despite Frantic Hospital Trip To Save Her

Darlene Rea

Despite a frantic effort to save her life, four-year-old Darlene Sue Rea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rea Jr., 1198 Jennings Ave., died Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. at Good Samaritan Hospital in Lebanon, Pa., after she had accidentally swallowed a lead bearing.

The child swallowed the tiny object, believed to have been from a Mexican jumping bean toy, while at play in her home Monday morning. When her father, who is a carpenter-contractor, failed to dislodge the object by patting her on the back, she was taken to Salem City Hospital.

Doctors there were unable to remove the bearing after working for nearly an hour and a half to dislodge it. They recommended taking her to a Cleveland hospital or Temple University Hospital in Philadelphia, which is noted for its work.

The race to Philadelphia began, a race which the parents knew might be against death. Near Harrisburg, Pa., Darlene started to turn blue and gasped for breath. The father, by this time driving 90 miles an hour, was stopped by police. The police, however, quickly summoned an ambulance and oxygen was administered while the child was rushed to Good Samaritan Hospital in Lebanon.

An emergency operation revealed both lungs filled and infected. Darlene died at 5:30.

Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church here, who had been in New York City, met the parents in Harrisburg and they returned home this morning.

Darlene was born in Salem on March 7, 1952, the daughter of Samuel Rea Jr., and Virginia Bartges Rea. She is also survived by a brother Jack and two sisters, Joanne and Marsha; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rea Sr. of Salem and Mrs. Laura Bartges of Beloit.

The child was a member of the First Friends Sunday School and church.

Funeral service will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the church, with Rev. Winn officiating. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral home Friday evening.

Fire Kills Seven Children In Home

Parents Away When Blaze Breaks Out

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Fire raced through a one-story cinder-block home eight miles northwest of here early today, killing seven Negro children who were alone in the house.

Fire Chief Richard Campbell at Sylvania, whose men joined a Whiteford Twp., Mich., company in fighting the blaze just north of the Michigan-Ohio border, said the father, John Cooper, 33, was taking his wife, Laurel, 29, to work in a Toledo cafe when the fire broke out.

Dead Children Listed

Dead are Brenda Joyce, 9; Harrison Leonardo, 9; Jacqueline, 6; John, 4; Sherrely Jean 3; Georgia Marie, 2, and Carter Stephen, 2 months. Campbell said he believed Harrison Leonardo had been orphaned and was being reared by the Coopers. He did not know whether the child had been adopted officially.

In Michigan, Monroe County sheriff's deputies said Cooper was being held for investigation. The deputies said state police wanted to determine why the children were left alone.

Monroe County Coroner Harold Maurice scheduled an inquest for today.

A neighbor discovered the blaze and summoned Sylvania firemen. She said flames spread so quickly that no rescue attempts were possible.

Firemen Extinguish Two Minor Blazes

City firemen were called out on Wednesday to extinguish two rubbish fires, one in a truck and one in a city trash can, according to Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright.

A rubbish fire was extinguished at 3:30 p.m. in the rear of a dump truck, owned by Charles Dunlap of 180 W. 8th St. and parked at 308 Ohio Ave. No damage was caused to the truck by the blaze.

At 8:31 p.m. a fire in a city trash can at 490 E. State was extinguished. Both fires were believed to have been caused by lit cigarettes.

Salem Action Urged On Road Survey Report

Funds, Time To Make Decision Limited, Highway Official Says

The State Highway Department today urged Salem to hasten its report on the city's arterial highway survey submitted by the Michael Baker Jr. engineering firm last month.

In a letter to Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, the division 11 engineer of the highway department at New Philadelphia, Dean R. Sever, stated that bond issue funds will be used to finance the cost of bypasses around Salem. He warned, however, that "these funds are limited and the time for committing these funds to a particular project is also limited."

Sever said that if the locations of the bypasses as recommended by the survey are acceptable to the city, "it should be so reported."

If the recommended locations are not acceptable and other locations are available, the letter stated, the city should "make arrangements with its consulting engineers to study these alternate locations."

"If an alternate location is proved feasible in accordance with sound highway engineering principles, the report should be revised to make it acceptable to all parties concerned," the letter stated.

Sever said the city's recommendations should be made "as soon as possible."

The arterial highway report was criticized by City Council earlier this month because the proposed north bypass would cut through seven out of the remainining nine real estate allotments available for development in the city.

The state is paying for 95 per cent of the cost of the report, $9,000.

Edward Arnold Dies Suddenly In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Veteran actor, Edward Arnold died unexpectedly early today of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 66.

His wife, Cleo, was at his bedside when he succumbed in his home at suburban Encino. His physician son-in-law, Dr. William F. Orlando, determined the cause of death.

Arnold, for whom this was the 49th year in show business, recently returned from making a movie, "The Ambassador's Daughter," in Paris. Two weeks ago he appeared on television, and he was planning to start another movie in New York soon.

Edward Arnold

He formerly starred in the "Mr. President" radio series.

The heavy-set, deep-voiced actor was born Guenther Schenider in New York City Feb. 18, 1890. After doing various odd jobs he appeared in amateur theatricals and made his professional stage debut in 1907.

Juvenile roles and stock-company performances followed. He made his movie debut in 1915.

In the World War II period Arnold helped organize the USO and various war bond drives. He was co-founder of the "I am an American" foundation and helped bring about the annual observance of "I am an American Day."

Twelve days ago the Edward Arnold Chapter of the San Fernando Youth Foundation was dedicated at Encino.

Beside his widow, Arnold leaves three children, Mrs. Orlando; Mrs. Jane Ebright, William Arnold, and a stepson, Michael Paris.

Editor Indicted By Government For Sedition

Charged With Using China Monthly To Hurt U. S. In Korea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Editor John William Powell has been indicted by the government in its first use of a 1953 sedition law. He is charged with using his China Monthly Review in Shanghai to thwart American military progress in the Korean War.

He says the charge is "completely untrue."

Powell, his wife Sylvia anl Julian Schuman of New York all were named in one indictment Wednesday.

Twelve other counts are leveled against Powell alone. He is charged with publishing issues of the Review which accused the United States of being internally corrupt, pursuing a "morally unjustifiable" foreign policy, attempting to exterminate the peoples of Korea and China with germ warfare and poison gas, testing germ warfare weapons on Korean and Chinese prisoners and spreading smallpox in North Korea. These statements, the indictment charges, Powell "well knew were false and untrue."

Powell Denies Charges

"I think they're pushing this a little far," Powell told the Associated Press when informed of the indictment. "Certainly neither Sylvia nor I have done anything seditious. That's completely untrue.

"What we have done is to have expressed very openly and vigorously our opinions on what has happened in China and on our government's foreign policy in China. We've learned in the last taree years we've been home that you say these things at some risk.

"Our policy doesn't recognize the revolution in China as an accomplished fact. If we continue to play footsie with Chiang Kai-shek we'll lose all of Asia."

Of the charge that his Review accused America of waging germ warfare in North Korea, Powell said:

Talked with Chinese

"We printed what we saw and heard in Shanghai. We certainly attributed it to the sources, which were the Chinese Communist government and individual Chinese who had visited the Korean front. Some of these Chinese were individuals we had known a long time

Daylight Saving Time In Effect Here Sunday

Salem residents, like those of a number of other Ohio cities, will advance their clocks one hour before retiring Saturday night in accordance with the city's custom of going on Daylight Saving Time the last Sunday in April.

The city will remain on "fast time" until the last Sunday in September. Several Ohio communities last year, however, extended fast time through October.

The question of uniform practice throughout the county will be discussed by the Columbiana County Mayors Association at its meeting next Thursday.

Sesqui Queen Rules Announced

Winner Will Receive Vacation In Florida

Rules for the contest to select a sesquicentennial queen were announced today by Morris Hollinger, chairman of the event.

The queen will reign over the pageant, parade, balls and numerous other activities throughout the sesqui week June 9-19.

"Personality, not beauty, will be the foremost judging criterion in the selection of the queen, in addition to "initiative, civic interest and the ability to obtain the support of friends and citizens," Hollinger said.

Only one nominating ballot will be needed for any girl to enter the contest. The ballots which are printed elsewhere in today's edition of The News, may be turned in by the contestant herself or by a sponsoring group. The nominating coupons will be published in the News several times a week.

Ballots may be mailed to the sesqui headquarters at 190 Penn St. in care of Mr. Hollinger or the queen committee. Each nominee will automatically receive 1,000 votes toward winning when the nomination is received.

Young women, married or single, and between the ages of 16-30 are qualified to enter the contest. Every contestant must be a high school graduate or be at present a high school or college student, and must live within the immediate trade area of Salem, or within a 10 mile radius.

Hollinger reminds prospective candidates that nominations will close May 10. All candidates will gather May 14 in the Memorial Building when further rules and procedures of the contest will be explained.

The queen will be crowned at the initial performance of the ses-

Project To Be Developed New Highlandtown

New State Lake To Be Constructed In County

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel announced today that a new state-owned lake, approximating the size of Guilford Lake in land area will be developed in Washington Township near the village of Highlandtown in southern Columbiana County. The overall cost will be $250,000.

Some $40,600 was released Tuesday by the state control board in Columbus as the first money for purchase of land in the township, Rep. Wetzel reports.

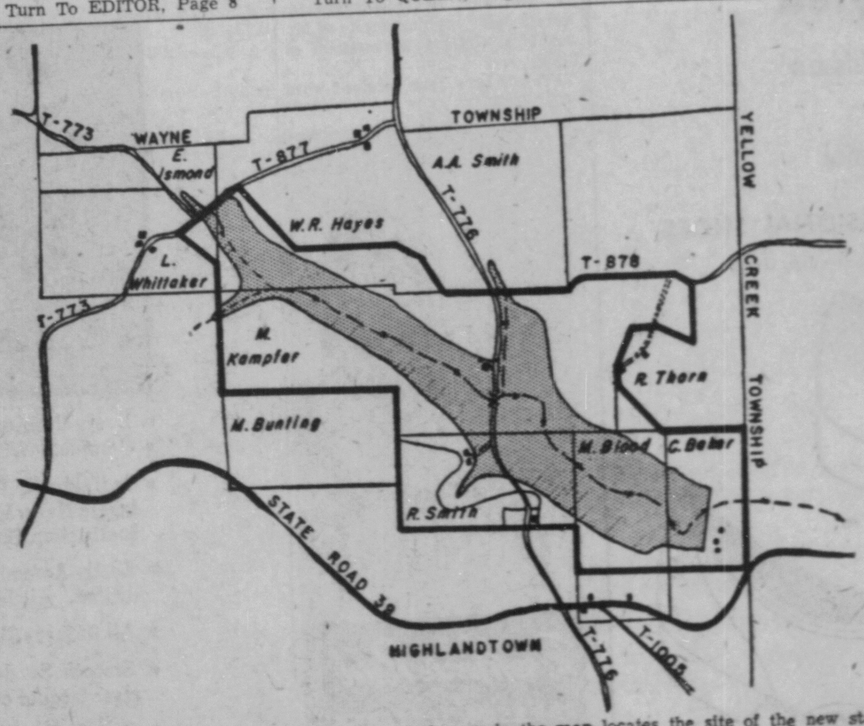

The lake, which will be used for fishing, bathing and boating, will extend parallel with Rt. 39 between Wellsville and Salineville on the north side of the highway starting with the Clarence Baker farm and continuing northwest of Highlandtown to the Whitaker and Hayes farms which lie across Rt. 39 from the new Highlandtown school.

The total area will include some 500 acres. The water area will be about 179 acres. The dam will be constructed on the Baker land near the Yellow Creek Township line.

Options taken involve about 414 acres of land. The property owners will receive their checks soon, Rep. Wetzel said. Other options that involve several small parcels have been practically completed by the Land Title Department, he said.

Rep. Wetzel said work on the initial plans for the lake began in February, 1955, when he appeared before the Wild Life Council at its regular monthly meeting and

E. W. Bliss Earnings Up First Quarter

Sales and earnings of E. W. Bliss Company for the first quarter of 1956 exceeded those of the corresponding period of 1955, with sales up 15 per cent and profit before taxes and renegotiation topping 1955 first quarter pre-tax earnings by 18 per cent.

"This was achieved," Robert Potter, president, said, "despite the fact that prices on certain large contracts negotiated during 1953 were at profit margins insufficient to cover unanticipated costs, thereby adversely affecting profits. Although losses will continue to be incurred on these contracts," Mr. Potter said, "they will be at a diminishing rate."

Net sales for the three months ended March 31, 1956, amounted to $18,635,067, as compared with sales of $16,164,006 for the corresponding period of the previous year. Profit, before provision for Federal taxes on income and renegotiation, was $1,514,764 as against $1,283,503 for the comparable 1955 period.

Net income, after taxes and renegotiation, amounted to $677,764 equal to 69 cents per share on the 981,189 shares of common stock currently outstanding. This compares with 1955 first quarter earnings of $616,503 or 75 cents per share on the lesser number of 821,488 shares of common stock then outstanding.

Current Operations and Outlook

"The demand for the company's products continues strong and the backlog at March 31 amounted to approximately $66,000,000, equal to the peacetime high which was

Agreement On A Few Minor Issues Expected

Bulganin, Khrushchev Lay Wreath On Grave Of Marx In London

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Prime Minister Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev began their farewells to Britain today. They placed a wreath on the grave of Karl Marx and talked for more than an hour with Labor party leaders that Khrushchev had clashed sharply with Monday night.

The two Red chieftains brought a five-foot wreath of tulips, carnations and red roses to Marx's grave. The father of Communist theory died in London in 1884 and is buried on the outskirts of London.

Flew to Scotland

The rest of their day was given over to a flying trip to Scotland, where Georgi Malenkov in his visit exhibited such a love of Robert Burns' poetry. On their return tonight, Bulganin and Prime Minister Eden were to sign a joint communique summing up the results of the talks they have held for the past week.

The general expectation was that they would report progress toward East-West agreement only on lesser issues.

The Russians' goodbye talk with the Laborite leaders apparently soothed some of the hard feelings left by the earlier clash. Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell told newsmen the get - together was cordial and "ended on a friendly note."

No Change In Feeling

But authoritative sources said neither Khrushchev nor the Britons indicated any change in their feeling about Jews and Social Democrats (socialists) imprisoned behind the Iron Curtain.

The Monday night dinner row was one of the dramatic highlights of the Russians' 10-day visit. At the Laborites' suggestions that Jews and Socialists were being persecuted behind the Iron Curtain, Khrushchev angrily brushed aside the questioning as "nonsense." He said there were no Social Democrats in the Soviet Union, and the fate of any elsewhere was no concern of his.

Soviet reaction to the clash indicated that the Russians felt Khrushchev had been deliberately provoked into language which shocked even the extreme left wing of the Labor party.

Two Russian U. N. Diplomats Ordered Expelled from U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has expelled two Russian U. N. diplomats on the ground they exceeded their authority in taking part in the return of five Soviet seamen to their homeland 19 days ago.

The State Department late Wednesday handed a protesting Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zarubin a note ordering out of this country Aleksander K. Guryanov and Nikolai Turkin, members of the Russian United Nations delegation. The note also criticized the head of the delegation, Arkady Sobolev.

The note said Guryanov and Turkin were guilty of "exceeding the scope of their official capacity" as members of the Soviet U.N. delegation's staff.

Under the U. N. headquarters agreement, the United States reserved the right to take action against any foreign official accredited to his government's U.N. delegation in New York City who engages in "activities outside of his official capacity."

While the U.S. note chided Sobolev, it did not demand his recall.

Officials said Guryanov and Turkin were guilty of improper action because their U.N. status did not permit them to go to the Idlewild Airport, as they did with the seamen, and shephered them through an immigration hearing as they left the country. If performed by a duly accredited consular official, such things are all right.

Secretary of State Dulles has been under some pressure to take action in the sudden flight of the five young seamen who had sought and been granted asylum in this country.

Dulles had recommended asylum for these five, together with four others, from the crew of the Soviet tanker Tuapse. Eleven other crewmen are on Formosa, where the ship was confiscated by Nationalist China. Twenty - nine more crewmen returned earlier to Russia.

Just Wednesday Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), acting as chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, had urged Dulles to take some action. Subcommittee witnesses have testified that the five seamen were kidnaped by 20 to 25 "Soviet thugs" under the direction of Konstantin Ekimov, first secretary of the U. N. delegation.

Atomic Plant County Returns To Normal After First Boom

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—When the atomic energy boom hit this small Pike County community in 1952, optimism soared as high and became as expansive as the familiar mushroom cloud itself.

Now the first bloom has gone from the boom.

References to Waverly as a potential "ghost town" now that the mammoth Portsmouth Area atomic energy project has been completed, get the town's residents a little irate. They have some good reasons.

It seems to be all a matter of perspective. Most local people will go so far as to admit a "recession" from the "boom times" when the plant was in construction. But the Pike County story is really a comparison of what Pike County was before the plant was announced, and what it is now.

That recession from the time of peak construction employment at the big plant came as no great shock to many citizens. It was expected, and, in many cases, welcomed as a return to normalcy.

Citizens do not like to compare present business profits or losses with those when more than 20,000 men were building the plant. Instead, they like to call attention to the great strides made since 1952.

Pike County, from its earliest days, had been a rural community. Then, in August 1952, came the announcement of a billion-dollar gaseous diffusion plant at Sargents a few miles south of here, just a whistle stop on the N&W railroad.

Overnight Pike County began to prepare for a mass influx of construction personnel and their families. In the planning, attention had to be paid to future as well as temporary needs.

Local observers say the results of that planning have been more than gratifying to permanent residents who, for the first time in months, have a chance to sit back and take stock of the situation.

They believe every facet of community life reflects the progress in the county—and are taking steps now to keep alive that early optimism by doing what they can to attract new industry.

A graphic illustration of the growth lies in comparing the $21,041,500 tax duplicate of 1952 with that of $35,340,735 for 1955. County officials say that increase will be noted again in 1956 with additional homes and businesses added to the tax list.

Waverly, the county seat, had a big share of the building due to its existing municipal water and sewer systems. Piketon and Beaver were quick to install public utilities, but the projects required time—and that was the big factor with the rapid progress of plant building and shifting of personnel.

The pre-plant population of Waverly, according to Post Office Department figures, was 461 families, or 1,618 persons using 3.5 as the national average per family. Today the figure is 1,097 families or 3,840 people, with another 5,360 on rural routes. Lake White, just outside the city limits, has shown a heavy population increase.

Waverly earned a first-class postal rating in 1955. The post office business doubled during the plant construction period, and has stayed at that level. Today, four city mail carriers are needed. Only one made the rounds in 1952.

Oficials of the Waverly First National Bank (with branches in Beaver and Piketon) and the Waverly State Bank report assets have doubled since 1952 and say indications point to stabilization at that point, barring advent of new industry.

The First National Bank listed 3½ million dollars in assets in 1952, $8,600,000 at the plant employment peak, and a fraction over seven million dollars for the first quarter of this year. The state bank listed 1½ millions in 1952, doubling assets to three million dollars by 1956. Other financial institutions here are the Waverly Building and Loan and the City Loan.

Banking oficials report "a surprisingly healthy situation on business and individual loans," In all cases, the financial institutions expanded operations, added more personnel and renovated outdated offices.

Business men are quick to admit their incomes have dropped since the peak plant employment period, but they say business is better than it was before August 1952. Many of the old established shops are operating despite heavy competition from chain stores and new independent merchants. Many of the firms which closed their doors were established only to serve the temporary population, and the operators have moved on to other construction sites.

Travel in and around Pike County has been helped by new road construction and improvements, particularly U.S. 23 and Ohio 124. The state highway department has spent millions of dollars in the area to provide first-class highways. In the near future, U.S. 23 which links Columbus with Portsmouth and the Ohio River via the A-plant county will be fourlane all the way.

Telephone, electric, water and sewer facilities have been improved. Pike County now has a total of 235 classrooms in its schools as compared with 119 in 1952, and 205 teachers as compared with 125. There are 5,400 students enrolled as compared to 3,900 in 1952—and there are five new school buildings.

About 3½ million dollars has been spent from federal, state and local funds since 1952 to provide modern educational facilities.

Farming promises to retain its important role in the county. The AEC required 3,633 acres for the plant site, 2,600 of which was cropland involving all or parts of 42 farms. Due to this, there has been some slight reduction in total cropland.

Many farmers who took jobs at the A-plant have returned to full-time agricultural operations and this is reflected in increased production figures.

Not the least of the important contributions to community life in the era of the plant has been the work of the Pike County churches. The National and the Ohio Councils of Churches offered assistance during the boom peak. Added to the 79 pre-1952 churches are 11 new churches.

Those who have hopes of a continued, but more gradual, business and industrial development of the county think their hopes are well founded. They point to present promotion of what they call "two of the finest industrial sites in the Scioto Valley." One is the public house authority's development and adjacent farmland in Waverly, with water, sewer and streets available. The other is 200 acres owned by the C&O Railroad near Zohn's Corner.

Living Costs Up Slightly During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today reported living costs rose one-tenth of 1 per cent in March, the first increase since November.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its living cost index in March reached 114.7 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This is three-tenths of 1 per cent above March 1955.

H. E. Riley, chief of the bureau's price and living cost division, said a seasonal increase in food prices can be expected beginning in April and continuing through most of the summer. He said it probably will mean some rise in the living cost index.

In March prices averaged higher over the month for all major categories of family spending except housing and transportation Housing costs remained at their February level and transportation, led by a slight drop in used car prices, declined.

Retail food prices rose two-tenths of 1 per cent from February to March, following a five month decline. Food still was 1.6 per cent below March last year, with meats, poultry and fish almost 10 per cent lower.

The bureau reported that the take-home pay of factory workers the purchasing power of their earnings reached new highs in March. Net spendable earnings of a worker with three dependents were $72.10 a week in March, while those of a worker with no dependents were $64.77. This was a gain of 33 cents over February, and an increase of more than $2.70 or about 4 per cent over March 1955.

Milk Price Hike Seen Shortly

Producers Granted Emergency Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some Ohio dairymen were predicting today that retail prices of milk would go up at least one cent per quart over most of the state as a result of a temporary, emergency increase granted producers by the Agriculture Department.

The increase to producers, announced Wednesday, amounts to 46 cents a hundred pounds — about one cent a quart—in May and June and 26 cents in July.

Ohio dairy farmers, at a hearing here last Friday, had asked generally for an increase of 50 cents a hundred pounds for the rest of the year. They complained that prices they received were too low.

The order, which restores to a large extent the seasonal milk price cut that went into effect Feb. 1, requires approval of the milk producers themselves before it goes into effect.

Howard G. Eisaman, federal milk market administrator in Cleveland, says he expects to complete the formality of a referendum of producers there today.

The Agriculture Department order for a boost in the wholesale price also affects the Fort Wayne, Ind., and Wheeling and Clarksburg, W. Va., areas but not the Toledo, Ohio area. Toledo area dairy farmers were recently granted a separate price boost.

Milk distributors throughout the state said the one cent a quart wholesale increase would be passed on to the consumer.

In Cleveland, Frank W. Edwards, president of the Belle Vernon Milk Co., the area's largest distributor, said retail milk prices would go up "at least a cent a quart."

Distributors in Dayton and Columbus agreed with Edwards. In Columbus one dairy company executive said the increase could be exepected to start next Tuesday.

In Cincinnati, Walter Fielman, secretary-treasurer of the Cincinnati Milk Exchange, said it would be up to the individual dealers to decide whether to pass on the price increase. But he said an increase of a cent-a-quart is "a large one."

In Washington, Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) estimated the order will mean a five-million-dollar statewide boost in farmers' income over the three-month period covered by the increase. The increase will amount to $500,000 in his Canton district alone, Bow said.

No War Without Permission

The war scare in the Middle East can be stopped cold if the Soviet Union throws its full support behind the United Nations as a peacemaker.

There can be no war between Israel and its Arabian neighbors without the permission of the major powers who would furnish the munitions and preside over the consequences.

The only major power that seemed inclined to do this was the Soviet Union, which has been expanding its influence into the Middle East. The war scare is the direct result of Egypt's ability to obtain enough war equipment from Czechoslovakia, a satellite of Russia, to threaten Israel's security.

Egypt and the Arab countries have no munitions industry. Israel has no munitions industry. If the potential belligerents cannot get planes, tanks, guns, bombs and other war material, they cannot fight. That is how simple it is for the major powers to keep peace among the small nations. That is how simple it would be to stop the war scare in the Middle East.

If the Kremlin really has decided not to have a war, there will be no war. Everybody will be in agreement about the desirability of peace, including the Israeli and the Arabs, who never have wanted to fight, except in self-defense.

Any Other Suggestions

The Ohio State University vice president in charge of student affairs has released a statistic that will raise the eyebrows of educators all the way to their receding hair lines.

Fifty per cent of the freshmen who start to Ohio State, he reveals, drop out by their junior year. A third of the first-year class is gone by the second year. Less than half the original membership comes back for the third year.

In the meantime, Ohio taxpayers are under relentless pressure to provide more and more capital improvements at Ohio State and all other state-supported colleges and universities. It is slated for nearly 10 million dollars' worth in the current program.

Wouldn't it make more sense to wed out obvious misfits who help to overcrowd Ohio State than to take students willy-nilly on a come-one-comeall basis and wait until half of them give up?

Voluntary colleges also have a drop-out problem, but it is minimized by weeding out applicants with no aptitude for college work. No private institution could afford to provide facilities on a come-one-come-all basis, an extravagence that taxsupported colleges maintain only because taxpayer have not begun to take note of the cost of the cost.

Tornado Season

It takes optimism to look forward to springtime in the tornado belt—as much as it takes to look forward to autumn in the hurricane belt.

The tornado season has blown into Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri in a blustery manner that will test optimism to the breaking point. Dust storms have struck Texas. For the next two months and more, no one can be sure a capricious wind won't blow himself and his property into oblivion.

There will be the standardized explanations—standardized, that is, according to the times. In this particular era, tornadoes and huricanes in this hemisphere are blamed on nuclear explosions. In a preceding era, they were blamed on sunspots. At other times they have been blamed on deviations from the paths of grace and the terrible temper of the gods.

But in all probability they should be blamed entirely on the caprice of the elements, the one force in the natural world that defies men's well laid plans to control his environment. Even tornado and hurricane belts are subject to change without notice. They are there yesterday, here today and somewhere else tomorrow. The next big wind you hear about may be too close for comfort.

Grandpa Will Be A Liar

A few years from now, a nosy snip of a grandchild is going to look down his cherubic nose at an innocent grandpa who has been spinning yarns about the Kelly-Grimaldi nuptials and call the old man a liar.

He will be a liar, too. The wedding never happened. The jewel thieves, the brazen bid for a boy baby to keep a tiny principality from paying taxes, the gambling syndicate, the bricklayer's daughter who married the unhappy prince, the whole musical comedy libretto — this was a previously unstaged work by Sigmund Romberg.

Grandpas who fill little moppets' heads with such fantasies in the future will be spoken to sternly by down-to-earth mothers for spinning yarns. They — and grandmas too — will be well advised to put the whole thing out of their minds now that the curtain has come down on the closing scene, where the happy couple sail away into the sunset to a Rombergian finale of "Student Prince" songs.

Things just don't happen that way in real life.

Significant Opinion

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Court Upholds Investigative Power Of Congress

WASHINGTON — Congress has the right to investigate and get information on any phase of communism or Communist infiltration or anything else on which it seeks to obtain data.

Lawrence

This principle, long established, now has been reaffirmed by the U. S. Court of Appeals here by a 6 - to - 2 decision. The issue arose in a case where a defendant didn't plead the fifth amendment but asserted that a congressional commitee didn't have the right to "expose" anybody but merely to get information really needed for legislation.

The importance of the case is that a few weeks ago, by a 2-to-1 decision, a section of the Court of Appeals here ruled in favor of the witness. Now Judge Walter Bastian, who was in the minority then, heads the court in rendering the decision in which eight judges participated.

The case is important because it strikes at a fallacy widely believed by many so-called "liberals" who have contended that, unless a congressional committee can furnish absolute proof that it is constitutionally authorized to get the information it seeks from a witness, the latter is justified in declining to answer.

ALBERT EINSTEIN once wrote a letter urging witnesses to ignore a congressional committee's inquiries about past affiliations and so-called "political" beliefs.

The American Civil Liberties Union, which has been carrying on a crusade against congressional inquiries has contended in one of its annual reports that the powers of Congress to ask questions are very limited, indeed.

Likewise, "The Fund for the Republic" is financing a study of congressional powers of inquiry and, through its spokesman, has been saying congressional committees cannot do what they have been doing to break down the Communist party in America, because it is supposedly "political."

But Judge Bastian, speaking for the Court of Appeals, says:

"A majority of the court is of the opinion that Congress has power to investigate the history of the Communist party and to ask the questions Watkins refused to answer. It would be quite in order for Congress to authorize a committee to investigate the rate of growth or decline of the Communist party, and so its numerical strength at various times, as part of an inquiry into the extent of the menace it poses and the legislative means that may be appropriate for dealing with that menace. Inquiry whether thirty persons were Communists between 1942 and 1947 would be pertinent to such an investigation. The questions asked Watkins could be asked for a valid legislative purpose."

THE PRINCIPAL point made by the minority of the court was that a congressional committee doesn't have the right to use its powers for "exposure" about anybody. But Judge Bastian, in the majority opinion, adds:

"Congress has power of exposure if the exposure is incident to the exercise of a legislative function. Congress certainly has the power of inquiry or of investigation when the inquiry or investigation is upon a subject concerning which Congress may legislate. The fact that such an inquiry or investigation may reveal something or 'expose' something is incidental and without effect upon the validity of the inquiry."

The witness in this case undertook to decide for himself whether Congress ought to require him to give the names of Communists he knew in the labor-union movement. The court says this is for Congress to determine unless a fifth amendment plea is interposed as a reason for refusal to answer.

THE COURT'S ruling, therefore, is of far-reaching significance — particularly this passage:

"Congress has before it the important duty to legislate effectively, but at the same time wisely, upon the problems posed by the world Communist movement. It cannot perform that duty without information. It ought not try to perform it without information. We think that the joint resolution authorized an inquiry into infiltration by Communists into labor unions and that this inquiry was such an inquiry."

Thus does a high court dispose of the allegation that a congressional committee's search for information can be restricted, if not broken down altogether, by the specious plea that it might "expose" something unpleasant about the past associations of a person who once was in the Communist movement or knew something about its operations.

Unless the fifth amendment is offered as a reason — a fear of self-incrimination — the citizen owes a duty to tell a duly constituted committee of Congress what he knows.

Hot Hand Brigade

By TRUMAN TWILL

Big - time advertisers of motorized lawn-mowing equipment have broken the ice this year with illustrations showing the woman of the house having the time of her life with the new power mower while her no-account husband beams approvingly.

Advertising being what it is a projection of what people think of as being ideal — the female lawnmower jockey is always shown as a three - dimensional dreamboat, but the idea is basic, sound as a nut. Any woman will look good running a mowing machine.

Men are being emancipated from grass-cutting.

Having proved that women can drive automobiles as well or better than they can drive them for all ordinary purposes, men now intend to give the girls a whirl on the lawn.

They are about to be given all the privileges that go with membership in the Hot-Hand Brigade.

Matrons will have their hands swatched in waterproof bandages to hide the blisters that ensue from grabbing hold of hot exhaust pipes. Their legs, shapely and otherwise, will carry honorable scars incurred when they bent over in the wrong position to extricate tin cans, bones, roller skates, brickbats and pieces of wire from their merry mowing machines.

Their eyes will shine at the prospect of lopping off the surplus growth of an acre or two of verdant greensward in their spare time.

They will soon be using the technical lingo that goes with the care and operation of this basic tool in the era of gracious living—needle valves, bed knives, torque, spark gap, heighth of cut and idling adjustment.

They will learn why flower beds that interfere with ring-around-the-rosy mowing are an abomination, why shrubbery should be planted in clusters and clothespins dropped in the grass by doppy laundresses lead to unfriendly thoughts.

They will understand why fertilizer applied with a liberal hand is a mixed blessing and why there are more important things in this world than grass that grows thicker than a dog's hair.

As their lives wear on and they grow jealous of time, they also will grasp the equation between an energy that gets out of balance. Eventually the smarter ones will have insight into the reason why so many of their grandmothers pushed lawnmowers in the old days while their worthless grandfathers complained of sciatica.

It is to their credit that women are rising to the occasion, as they always do when challenged to prove their mettle. At the outset of a new grass season, millions of them are doggedly putt-putting their dogged way through the red top, the white top, the blue grass, the Chewings fescue and the perennial rye.

They are macerating the buckhorn, the dandelion, the ground ivy and the innocent plantain as if they had been doing it all their lives. Fact is, they have been doing it since the beginning of time.

It was misspent chivalry that robbed them of the pleasure of caring for the fields in the good old-fashioned, and the fault is about to be corrected. Advertising can do anything, and advertising in 1956 is putting women out to grass.

They'll have the lawn party of their lives, until they catch on to what happened.

It takes about $20,000 invested to create one job in U.S. industry.

Latest Segregation Ruling

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has been confusion this week—but it's hard to see why — on the Supreme Court's action on racial segregation in buses which operate entirely within a state.

Ten years ago the court banned segregation on interstate buses—those which cross state lines—but never had ruled on whether segregation on intrastate buses also was unconstitutional. It faced that question this week.

The court's action—or the manner in which it acted—was widely interpreted as meaning segregation on intrastate buses is unlawful. Almost at once bus lines in 13 Southern cities ended segregation.

Then some lawyers who never have been named were reported as saying this kind of interpretation was going too far, that the court hadn't actually said segregation on intrastate buses was unlawful.

True the court didn't say that in so many words. But if the English language has any meaning the court in effect ruled that segregation on intrastate buses must end. Some of the confusion is due to the way the court handled the case.

For reasons of its own, the court—ever since ruling May 17, 1954, against public school segregation — has given no reasoned opinions in its subsequent decisions outlawing segregation in other fields, such as public parks. It has simply issued legal orders.

This is the background:

South Carolina, by law, has compelled bus companies operating within the state to make Negroes ride behind white passengers. The buses in Columbia, S.C., are run by the South Carolina Electric & Gas Co.

On June 22, 1954—just a little over a month after the Supreme Court had banned public school segregation — a Negro woman, Sarah Mae Flemming, boarded a crowded, segregated bus in Columbia. Negroes were standing.

When a white passenger got up, Sarah Flemming sat down. This put her in front of two white passengers. The bus driver ordered her out of there. She charged later she not only had to leave the seat but that the driver hit her.

She sued the company in Federal District Court for $25,000 damages, claiming her constitutional rights to equal treatment had been violated. She wouldn't have a right to sue in federal court unless there was a constitutional violation.

The case went before U.S. Judge George Bell Timmerman. The company asked him to dismiss the suit. There was no trial for damages. The case didn't get that far.

The judge said: Was the segregation law unconstitutional? If not, the woman had no case in his court. He ruled bus segregation was constitutional. The woman took her case to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 4th Circuit, in Richmond, Va.

It was this same court which had ruled — and been upheld by the Supreme Court last November—that state laws compelling segregation in public parks were unconstitutional.

The appeals court did the same in this case: it said Judge Timmerman was wrong, that intrastate bus segregation is unconstitutional. It told Timmerman to reverse his ruling, and did so with this language: "The case will be remanded for further proceedings not inconsistent herewith."

That meant the woman's suit for damages would now have to go to trial in Timmerman's court and Timmerman should tell the jury the bus segregation law of South Carolina is unconstitutional.

The utility company, fighting this ruling, appealed to the Supreme Court. That court dismissed the appeal, sending the case back to Timmerman.

The Supreme Court, in sending the case back, let the court of appeals instructions to Timmerman stand unchanged. It had had this appeal under consideration for weeks, and could have said something against the appeals court ruling, but it didn't.

Now if the woman wins damages, or if the company wins, this case may come back to the Supreme Court several years from now. The Supreme Court then may say more on the subject than it did now.

But since Timmerman is under instructions to tell the jury the Carolina law is unconstitutional, the Supreme Court would be in a strange position if at some later date it ruled it had thought all along the Carolina segregation law was constitutional.

Time And The Weather

NEW YORK (AP) — Time and the weather are messing up some parts of the economy.

Nothing you say about the weather can ever apply to all parts of this nation. But large and economically important sectors are having a cold and wet spring. This delays crop planting, affects commodity markets, shrinks sales of such warm weather items as autos and spring suits — and benefits fuel dealers.

Time — or, rather, man's tinkering with nature — will spread confusion in some industries next Sunday when many industrial and financial centers will go on daylight saving time.

It will bring the usual headache for transportation services which will have to decide where and how much to alter schedules between places that do and places that don't change over for the summer.

News services will also be re- New York Stock market — an hour earlier for papers in standard time cities, and other things—going to press on new time.

Television and radio programs will have to be arranged, as best as possible, for a mixed audience —some on new time, some on old.

In some states where they have a short of locap option on daylight time — some industrial centers switching over and other parts of the state leaving the clocks alone —things can get really confused.

Daylight saving is supposed to let commuters get home in time to take care of their lawns and gardens. But in many suburb this doesn't mean much these days. Cold and rain, and occasional snow, have made these outdoor chores a mockery.

Some creatures of habit who put in a new lawn anyway report sadly that excessive rains have washed it out.

For the farmers it's nothing to laugh about. Delayed crop planting can be serious.

From Our Readers

Urges Historical Museum

To the News: Salem happens to have been one of the greatest, and possibly the greatest of those forgotten "Underground Railroad" stations in which slaves were aided in their escape from the south.

Our ancestors made the long night trips through mud and storm with frightened people on their way to Canada and freedom, and we are proud of them and their passengers.

The Salem Historical Society was organized to preserve what we can of Salem's history. We have around 350 members at present. Many more paid their dues once to show their good will. We have many interesting relics of by-gone days and we are sure there would be many more forthcoming if we had a museum in which to display them.

What it would mean to this town can be judged by what it has meant to other towns to capitalize on their history. Cooperstown, N.Y., is off on a side road, draws 200,000 tourists yearly, and, incidentally, they leave around a million and a half dollars in that town yearly. Yet all they have is a field where some of the early baseball games were played, and a shed full of obsolete farm machinery. Cooperation and good advertising has accomplished that.

But Salem has a gang of "Johnny-come-latelys" who presume to run this town. They have taken a "survey" of their group, and announced that Salem doesn't want a museum. The Historical Society is sponsoring the sesquicentennial with the understanding that the profits — if any — should be used toward a home for the Museum.

Like Henry Ford, some people think "history is the bunk," but Henry Ford changed his mind in his old days, and spent millions to establish an historic village and museum.

Let's hear from the people of Salem. Do we want a museum in which to preserve the best of Salem's past? Or do we want outsiders to come in and order what we shall do?

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Welcome Mr. Publisher

The newspaper publishers of America are in New York for their annual convention. This gives them the novel experience of considering their headaches away from the home grounds and discussing the question "With a million other businesses to choose from, why did we decide to make a living the hard way?"

A newspaper publisher is a glutton for punishment and a demon for general harassment. He gets his problems wholesale. And on top of 'em all he is held responsible for late paper deliveries, wrong weather forecasts, the omission of a wedding guest's middle initial, wrong advice to the lovelorn and mistakes in the obituary column.

HE CAN DEVOTE his life to crusading for the rights of man and be recalled years later chiefly as a man who guessed wrong on a local election, reported a ball game for only the first eight-and-a-half innings or permitted an error in a time table.

He can ruin his health battling for his community, his state and his nation and be denounced because the swallows arrived at Capistrano a day later than announced on Page 11. Once a man succumbs to temptation and becomes a newspaper publisher, he knows he has abandoned all idea of restful nights and sound sleep. He has to accept insomnia as a trade symbol. Most businessmen can count sheep. A publisher counts words in telegrams pleading for enough white paper to get out next week's edition.

HE IS THE SKIPPER of one of the country's greatest possessions, a free press, and the lad who keeps the Fourth Estate in food and lodgings. He has to be a combination showman, financier, producer, trail blazer, interpreter, guide, crusader, umpire, prophet and babysitter. . .and as if this were not enough he is expected to tell people how to bake an apple pie, how to mend a porch, what time to plant nasturtiums and the best way to keep guppies through a cold winter in a poorly heated tenement.

One consolation in his business is that his customers can read and write. This gets him into a life entirely surrounded by kibitzers who are sure 3 to 5 cents gives them the right to advise, counsel, criticize and boil alive. A publisher can start on a shoestring, build a great newspaper, fight for justice and freedom for a half century and be denounced because it rained at a Saturday picnic when the prediction was fair and warmer. We welcome him to New York in an annual convention that is never a clamback. Once a year he is certainly entitled to mee similarly harassed gents who can share his headaches.

EASILY THE STAR of all big dough quiz show winners is ten-year-old Leonard Ross, who won $100,000 the other night in a category where you would least expect to find a child — the stock market! Barely past his tenth birthday, this moppet over a period of several trying weeks answered intricate questions about the financial world that not one adult in a million could answer, and he got the hundred grand by coming through like a lifetime member of the Morgan firm with replies to a six-part question. The Stock Exchange tossed in a cash prize and he has had offers from a half dozen financial firms when he grows up. But the effect of $100,000 earned in a few hours is problematical and there is always a danger a kid may get to thinking about sports cars, speedboats, jet planes, the daily double, etc., and decide Wall Street was just a dull phase in a misspent childhood.

Is "Waiting For Godot" the old "Mairzy Doats" recording played backwards?

The Soviets have agreed to let him use their armies and we wouldn't be surprised to see Mike saving the Free World by signing up the land forces to Hollywood contracts, and getting Khrushchev to forget world conquest and do a musical.

Music Study Club Hears Guest Artists

The Music Study Club held its guest day luncheon Monday afternoon at the Methodist Church with 54 members and guests in attendance. Mrs. A. Laten Carter served as toastmistress.

Mrs. Curtis Vaughan, president, welcomed the guests. The past presidents in attendance, Mrs. Vesta King, Mrs. F. J. Stoudt, Mrs. Neil Knowlton, Mrs. Homer Taylor, Mrs. M. P. Livingston and Mrs. Donald Dusenberry, were honored and presented potted plants.

Mrs. Carter introduced the guest artists, Dr. and Mrs. Raleigh Drake. Dr. Drake is head of the psychology music department at Kent State University. His wife is assistant professor of piano at the university.

Dr. Drake discussed the value of musical aptitude tests and explained the Drake musical aptitude tests which he developed.

Piano selections by Mrs. Drake were "Schero in B Flat Minor," Chopin; "Berceus from Jocelyn," by Godard; and "Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt.

Spring flowers featuring daffodils decorated the luncheon table. Favors were miniature hats decorated with musical notes on a bar.

The May 14 meeting will be at the Smucker House. Mrs. Mildred Hundertmarck and Mrs. W. J. Hunston will be hostesses.

secured the council's approval of the project.

Subsequently, the engineering and land title sections of the Wild Life Council started negotiations with property owners in May of that year, and the state's engineering department made Highlandtown Lake the No. 1 project of the state, June 1, 1955.

Seventy-five percent of the money to purchase land and to build this kind of recreational facility comes from federal excise taxes on sporting equipment through the Robison-Patnam Bill on hunting equipment, and the Dingle-Johnson Bill on fishing equipment. The other 25 per cent is derived from the state through rotary money in the Wild Life Department, obtained from sales of fishing, hunting and boat licenses, Rep. Wetzel said.

Engineering work on the Baker plot, where the dam will be situated, was completed last April 10 by Allen Simmons, chief engineer of Division 3 of the Ohio Wild Life Council at Akron.

Rep. Wetzel, besides working with the various departments in Columbus and Akron and on location, also obtained the assistance of Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville in November, 1955, and they worked continuously in Wellsville on the lake site with engineers and personnel of the Land Title Department, helping to secure options from the various land owners.

"When the lake is completed it will be a great recreation center for the people of southern Columbiana County and for residents of the tri-state area in general," Rep. Wetzel said.

All chapter officers were reelected. They are: E. Allen McKeever of East Liverpool, chairman; Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, vice president; C. H. Musser of Salem, treasurer, and Mrs. Winifred Byers of Salem, secretary.

Lisbon's contribution to the county total was $2,161.55. Salem and East Liverpool raised $8,054.88 and $9,696.01 respectively.

"I wasn't convinced . . .", he said, "but I must say I wasn't satisfied with the flat American denials that were all I heard at the time. I still have an open mind on the subject and think it needs a great deal of investigating."

Warren's City Workers Get Paid At Last

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A city without funds since April 1 because of a wrangle between the mayor and council, Warren got back on normal fiscal footing today by distributing overdue paychecks to 40 employes and restoring curtailed services.

A $1,303,948 annual appropriation ordinance was passed by council unanimously and signed by Mayor William C. Burbank Wednesday afternoon in Common Pleas Court.

The measure provided for pay raises, effective May 1, of 15 cents an hour for hourly workers and $29 a month for salaried employes.

Dispute Settled Suddenly

Settlement of the dispute came suddenly during a recess of a hearing in a mandamus action before Judge William M. McLain. City Solicitor W. Leo Keating had brought the suit to compel council and the mayor to put an appropriation ordinance through without further delay. As a result of the recess agreement, the suit is now moot.

Funds for this city of about 55,000 became tied up when council passed an appropriation which cut nine administrative assistants of the mayor from the payroll. Six of the 10 councilmen are Democrats, and the mayor is a Republican.

Mayor Vetoed Measure

Mayor Burbank vetoed the appropriation, and the four Republican councilmen supported him, making it impossible for the Democratic majority to override the veto.

During the weeks of stalemate council gave some ground, and in the final settlement all nine of the administrative jobs involved in the dispute survived. The job of sanitation director was changel in title to assistant sanitation director, and the holder of this post, Theodore Rodosovitch, will not qualify for a pay boost May 1.

Leetonia Kiwanis Club Holds Benefit Party

The underprivileged children's fund benefitted from a card party Wednesday evening at the Leetonia High School under the sponsorship of the Leetonia - Washingtonville Kiwanis Club. The underprivileged children's program set up by the club is one of its prime welfare projects.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Marion Lodge of Leetonia, 500; Ellsworth Savage of Washingtonville, 500; Mrs. William Grim of Washingtonville, bridge. Mrs. Clyde Feicht of Greenford was presented a special prize.

Ray Tomes was chairman of the event. Refreshments were served.

Easy Victory Seen For Highway Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts predicted today the House will pass the Democratic-sponsored highway bill by a substantial margin and with the support of most Republicans.

Martin's forecast and a similar one from Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) indicated a shoo-in victory for the measure, on which the House opens debate today.

House leaders scheduled five hours of debate on the bill. Because of expected floor fights over some secondary provisions, they anticipated no final vote until Friday.

Sponsored by Rep. Fallon (D-Md), the bill would provide for 51½ billion dollars in new federal-state roadbuilding over the next 13 years. That includes 27½ billions for a 40,000-mile system of interstate superhighways, 90 per cent federally financed.

To help pay the cost, highway user taxes would be increased $14,800,000,000 in a 16-year period. This includes a penny-a-gallon rise in the federal gasoline tax, to 3 cents.

Graham's Murder Trial Nears Crisis

DENVER (AP)—Moving swiftly through state testimony, the murder trial of John Gilbert Graham is near the crisis—introduction of his alleged confession to blowing up an airliner carrying his mother and 43 others.

Prosecutor Bert M. Keating said today he expects his case to reach the decisive point "no later than tomorrow" when he will call FBI agents. They will testify about the 24-year-old defendant's statement to them.

"Without the confession, I can't send Graham to the gas chamber," Keating told newsmen.

Graham is charged with murder in the death of his well-to-do mother Mrs. Daisie E. King, 55.

achieved at Dec. 31, 1955" Mr. Potter said.

"The Canton plant, which is the company's largest facility, has been doing consistently well," he said. "This plant currently is concentrating on the production of large presses and one special rolling mill."

"The first phase of the company's plant and modernization program is well under way and should be completed by Octobre, 1956. All of the required equipment has been ordered and much of it has been installed and is in operation. The over-all program will involve an outlay of approximately $6,000,000, of which $4,250,000 will be spent in 1956. The program should result in materially increasing operating efficiency and therefore should strengthen the company's competitive position to an important degree."

In view of the present backlog and the continuing high level of business activity," Mr. Potter said, "sales for the second quarter should at least equal, if not exceed, those for the first quarter."

Two Drivers Hurt In Road Accidents

Two persons received minor injuries, none requiring treatment, in three accidents involving six vehicles on area highways Wednesday, the State Highway Patrol reported today.

A car driven by Fred McConnaghy, 52, of Columbiana and a truck trailer operated by Jay Walter, 24, of St. Clairsville, Pa., collided at the junction of Rt. 14 and Rt. 164 north of Columbiana at 11:45 a.m.

McConnaghy, whose auto was demolished, received abrasions and bruises of the face and body. The truck received minor damage. Patrolmen reported the cause of the accident is still under investigation.

Wayne Klehl, 30, Rogers received bruises of the forehead and knees when his car crashed into the rear of an auto owned by William Toland, 52, of Lisbon on Rt. 45, seven-tenths of a mile north of Lisbon at 5:16 a.m.

According to the highway patrol, Toland's vehicle had broken down in the fog and the car operated by Klehl struck it before Toland could get out to warn passing motorists. Both cars received heavy damages.

A car driven by Kenneth Feltz, 18, of East Palestine crashed into the rear of a panel truck driven by Michael Herchik, 26, of Youngstown on Rt. 170, three-tenths of a mile north of East Palestine, at 4:20 p.m.

Patrolmen reported that Herchick's vehicle was stopped on the highway to avoid striking a dog when the accident occurred.

Come in and Drive
the Surprise Car of the Year!

The word's getting around fast—the big, handsome husky you see here is the big surprise that caught the industry a year or so off balance!

But it didn't come as any surprise to Pontiac engineers that they had the year's performance sensation.

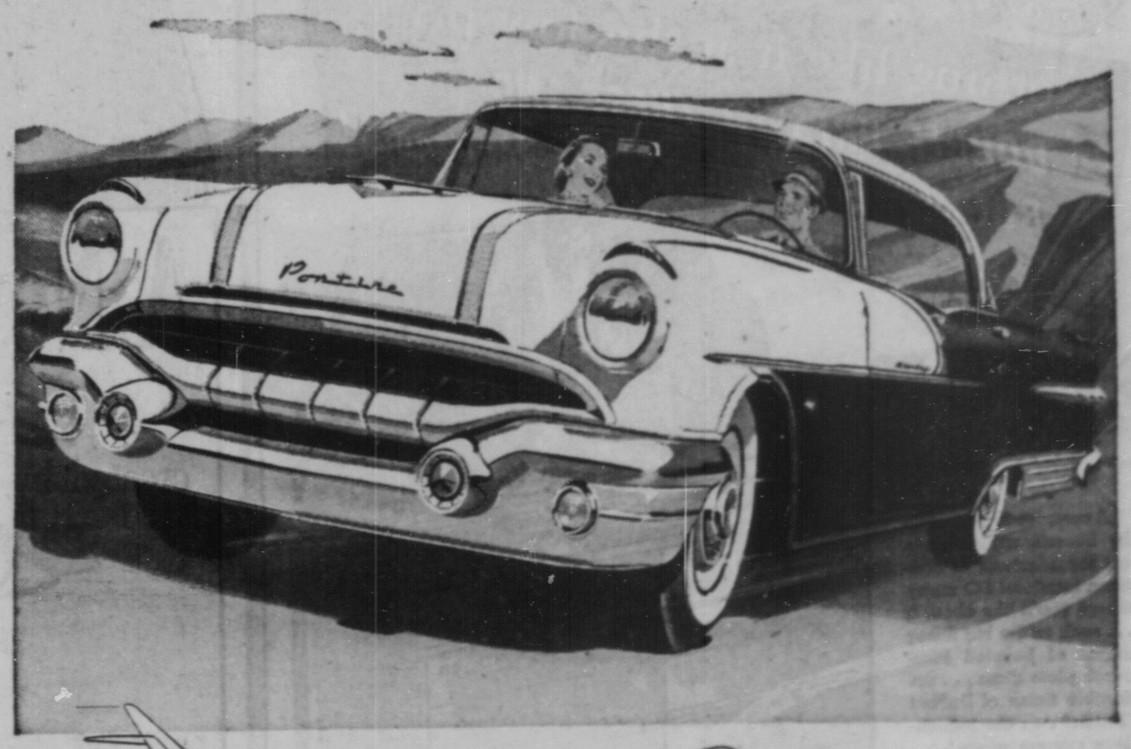

They knew all along that it would be, because they started from scratch and designed the most modern and efficient high-compression, high-torque V-8 engine in America!

Then they tailored an all-new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* especially for Pontiac's high-stepping Strato-Streak power plant—and for nothing else! The blazing action of 227 horses is yours in a flash with the positive, no-lag action of gears—plus an amazing liquid coupling for a smooth, uninterrupted flow of power to the wheels.

Bring yourself up to date—come in and pilot the surprise car of the year—you'll soon see what the talk's all about!

And don't be afraid to ask about price, for that's another pleasant surprise—the one that will let you boss the best on the road for a great deal less than you probably think! *An extra-cost option.

Former Thumb Suckers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

How do you get rid of your inner tensions?

Do you bite your nails? Light up a cigar or cigarette? Chew gum?

Usually a person who has one of these habits is intolerant of one who has another of these nervous habits. The gum chewer looks down on the nail biter. There is a fixed gulf of misunderstanding between the cigarette smoker and the man who enjoys a good cigar.

Now — thanks to an enlightened dentist — all us craven addicts have reason to be more tolerant of each other.

Dr. Maury Massler of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry says smokers, gum chewers and nail biters share one thing in common — they are all former thumb suckers.

A tolerant man himself, Dr. Massler sees no basic harm in these grownup replacements for the consoling thumb of childhood. They are merely, he says needed methods of "relieving the inner tensions that build up."

I cannot attest the general accuracy of Dr. Masslet's thesis. But it is certainly true in my case. I was a stout thumb man myself until the age of 5, when I swore off forever.

There followed 29 tense, fretful, and restless years. Than at 34 I discovered the relaxing solace of a good cigar. It was like being reborn again. Since then my life has been one long smoke-filled song.

But my enjoyment has been interrupted by many cigarette smoking hostesses who complained that the rich, dreamy aroma of my stogies reminded them of smoldering hemp.

"Why don't you light up a cigarette instead?" they urged.

What could a polite man do but reluctantly extinguish his fine two-bit cigar — and quietly slip the stub back in his pocket when no one was looking? It would be bad manners to tell them the truth: That cigarette smoke gives me a vile headache — that I feel anyone who actually enjoys smoking cigarettes ought to have his lungs examined.

Believe me, being a cigar lover is no pipe dream. You are sometimes lonely and embattled. Even the air lines are against you — except on all-male flights. A cigar man has to sit and brood smokeless while the cigarette fans blue-fog the place.

Have you ever noticed a fellow in an airplane absent-mindedly chewing on his thumb? He is probably a frustrated cigar man reverting to the solice of childhood.

Take it from me (again thanks of Dr. Massler), the next party hostess who tries to shame me out of my cigar by holding out a cigarette is going to get a brusque answer.

"Listen, lady," I will tell her coldly. "You may not be up on the scientific facts behind this situation, but I am.

"The truth is that we are both reformed thumb suckers who, for social reasons, have turned to substitute adult satisfactions. You probably had a small thumb, so you turned to cigarettes. I had the largest thumb in the neighborhood, so I naturally turned to cigars.

"If I had wanted to grow up to be a cigarette smoker, I would have started off as a child by sucking my little finger. Now please let me enjoy my cigar in peace or, I warn you, right here and now, I may revert to real infancy and cram my whole hand in my mouth and make gurgling noises."

Faced with a threat like that, any hostees would back down and let a cigar man blow the smoke rings of his own choice.

That is the wonderful thing about science. The more you learn about it the more practical ways you find to use it to improve your family living.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

This column has been prepared by Victor Riesel's staff after a bedside consultation with the injured columnist whose future vision is still seriously endangered.

At 3:40 p.m. on Thursday, April 19, John Foster Dulles and his undersecretary of state, Herbert Hoover Jr., left President Eisenhower's office after a discussion that will affect our nation's foreign policy. They passed Secretary of Labor James Mitchell who was heading for Ike's office with two other men for discussions that will play an important part in future domestic policies.

Victor Reisel

With Mitchell was one of the most influential labor leaders in the country and spokesman for a powerful bloc of union chiefs who believe that the AFL-CIO should not be the tail to the Democratic party kite. He is Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, whose 835,000 members are being readied for a new giant organizing drive from one end of the country to the other. They were accompanied by Maxwell Raddock, author of Hutcheson's father's biography, 'Portrait of an American Labor Leader."

-:-

THEY MET a genial, robust Ike who reminisced with them about old Bill Hutcheson, late president of the carpenters. The chief executive characterized Big Bill as "a credit to his union and the entire nation." Then Eisenhower spoke of his own belief in organized labor. He reminded his listeners that he had called in the contractor who was to remodel his farm in Gettysburg, Pa., and emphasized that he wanted "100 per cent union labor" used.

Then Ike issued a presidential proclamation commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the mighty carpenters union—the first such message since he became President.

There is more political significance to that diamond jubilee greeting than meets the eye. Hutcheson Sr. was one of the leaders of the Republican bloc inside labor. He and other officials of building trades unions were the die-hards who never took with grace the growing intimacy between national union chiefs and the Democratic party.

LIKE FATHER, like son. Today, Maurice Hutcheson is the leading advocate of cutting labor's close links with the New Deal-Fair Deal decendants.

Young "Hutch" is rallying the old line craft unions to his position. While there are many who characterize this bloc as openly pro-Republican, Hutcheon insists that it is essentially a "middle-of-the-road" group. s he puts it:

"We do not endorse any one political party, nor do we claim that all the evil or the goodness in the world is housed within any particular party. As a nation we have prospered because we have a two-party system which vies to win the favor of the electorate. No labor leader is in a position to deliver the votes of 16 million organized union men and women to any particular party. Labor will not hitch itself on to any single party's coattails in 1956. We will vote the man, not the party."

WHAT SEEMS, on the surface, to be just a move to prevent labor endorsement of a Democratic presidential candidate may yet mushroom into an actual swing toward support of the GOP. For there are many openly Republican labor leaders who are hoping to push Hutcheon in that direction.

Ike's interview with the carpenters' chief, then, is a move to strengthen the pro-Republican sentiment in some of the nation's biggest unions.

Hutcheson is coupling his drive for a non-partisan political position with a drive for one million more members. This venture — being launched even as the AFL-CIO's national organizing campaigns seem bogged down by a combination of jurisdictional fights and the racial tensions in the South—will go after unorganized workers in many fields. These include "building and construction, lumber, sawmills and logging camps, furniture manufacturing, display fixtures, millwork and resilient material plants."

SPECIFIC PLANS are being spelled out at a series of eight regional conferences called "Operation Workshop." Delegates from the union's 2900 locals in the U.S. and Canada will hear prominent persons from both parties as well as the governers of those states where the sessions are being held. Workshops have already been held in Philadelphia, Boston, Toronto and Spokane.

By May 12, sessions will have been held in San Francisco, Wichita, Chicago and Lakeland, Fla.

The carpenters are sure looking for joiners.

Bombing Of Judge's Home Seen Aimed At Intimidating Him

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—The investigation of the dynamiting of a judge's home turned today toward persons he helped send to prison as a prosecuting attorney and as judge.

Fifteen to 25 sticks of dynamite were set off Wednesday near the home of Judge Ralph D. Finley of Juvenile and Probate Court. The judge was on a fishing trip in Florida. His wife, Estah, was cut by flying glass.

The blast, heard for four miles, shattered 25 windows in the one-story brick residence and cracked plaster in several rooms.

Prosecutor Danny Johnson said he was investigating to see whether there was any connection between Finley's activities as a prosecuting attorney or a judge.

"These things are all under study," he said. "However, we have no particular tie to anyone thing."

He said it was not likely the dynamiting was the work of a juvenile.

Three explosive experts from the Ohio Criminal Identification Bureau at London agreed the dynamiting "was intended mostly to frighten and intimidate."

"The dynamiter was apparently not a novice in the handling of the explosive," one of the experts told the prosecutor. "He would know that he could have wrecked the house, instead of merely blowing out the windows if he had placed the bomb in one of the small trees Instead, he put it on the ground, indicating a desire only to scare the judge and his family."

Finley, a Democrat, formerly was prosecuting attorney for Tuscarawas County. He has been on the bench for about 10 years.

THE RIGHT TO KNOW

Tendency To Suppress News Spreads

By KENT COPER
By North American Newspaper Alliance

How widely the practice of speaking "off the record" in high and low places had extended was shown in an inquiry by Virgil M. Newton of the Tampa Tribune:

What is the right of public officials in holding such "off the record" news conferences? Doesn't all news of government belong to the people of that government? Isn't it extremely unethical for a public official, for one reason or another, to protect himself and his office through such an "off the record" news conference?

Alan J. Gould, executive editor of The Associated Press, commented:

We suppose one answer of the public officials would be that the news conference — even the "off the record" type — is arranged because the reporters ask for it; also that it serves to give reporters background which will help them to report and to evaluate later spot developments.

It is true that reporters on a given story will usually settle for an "off the record" session with the boss man — if that is the only way they can get to talk to him. That doesn't mean they like it . . .

The question has been asked as to what would have happened if some reporter had arisen during one of the well-known Eisenhower conferences aboard his campaign train and reminded Mr. Eisenhower that anything he had to say concerning his campaign and the questions involved therein belonged to the people, that he had no right to make them "off the record," and that he, the reporter, intended to print them regardless.

Well, of course, that exact point was made by the press corps among themselves after the conference ended. We asked Don Whitehead, who was there, what would have happened if a reporter had done what was suggested during the conference. Don's answer was that Eisenhower would have turned around and walked out of the press car and that 60 or 70 other reporters would then have jumped all over the man whose print - it - regardless stand had broken up the conference.

IT WAS NORMAN ISAACS of The Louisville Times who brought up application of the matter on local news:

The 'off the record" that has disturbed me for so long has been the attempts to black out news at the grass roots level in the cities, in the county courthouses and in the state houses.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors still was leading the way in an offensive movement to crash the barriers against the suppression of domestic government information at all levels. James S. Pope of the Asne said:

Awakening to their responsibility, the first chairman of the society's Domestic Freedom of Information Committee, Basil L. Walters, of the Knight newspapers, sounded repeated warnings that newspapers were permitting the people's right to information to go by default. The committee which succeeded his in 1950 took these warnings seriously. We had to. Editors were beginning to fight back against suppression of information, and the committee began to receive requests for advice and assistance from all over the place.

Each of us had some notion of how he would handle some issue for himself, but actually none of us knew what light the various state laws might throw on the problem, and we had only the foggiest idea of whence sprang the blossoming Washington legend that agency and department heads enjoyed a sort of personal ownership of news about their units. We know it was all wrong, but we didn't know how to start the battle for reformation.

WITH EACH succeeding year the conviction grew among newspapermen that government authorities at all levels were increasingly striving to hinder the orderly process of informing the public. Sometimes, when the off-the-record technique was not resorted to, complete secrecy was observed. It came to be feared that the news might be suppressed, and even that public documents might be withheld, until some individual could sell the disclosures in his own written accounts in magazines or in radio interviews, and, in the cases of outstanding figures, in their memoirs.

Former President Truman on Aug. 6, 1955, in announcing his forthcoming memoirs, was frank about what the book would contain. At a news conference in Kansas City he indicated that much not previously known would be available. He would not discuss details. Instead, The Associated Press reported, he "jokingly told newsmen that the best way to find out about it was to get a copy of the book." Then he added: "When the truth is told where it has not been known before, it's bound to prove right interesting."

Payments for memoirs of men who have been given political or military preferment in England and America have mounted into large figures. The practice evolved from a precedent which was considered smart when it was set after the first world war. At that time American newspapers competed for the news certain military and political leaders offered for sale as memoirs.

WHILE MUCH of what was sold was written in retrospect and was flavored with opinion and with efforts to prove wisdom and justification, the texts of such public documents as were thus disclosed were entirely the property of the people, being written by salaried military or government officials. Copies existed in the government files but news reporters did not have access to them.

After the lambasting the press got from President Truman in the 1948 campaign, the Committee on Freedom of Information of the American Society of Newspaper Editors may have expected better treatment under a new administration. But two years after President Eisenhower had been in office it had found no improvement regarding the official attitude toward the inquisitive press. Indeed, the committee's chairman at that time, J. Russell Wiggins, of The Washington Post and Times-Herald, declared the tendency toward news suppression was growing, adding that "at every level of American government there is an apparent reluctance to allow the people to have the facts."

REPEATED general complaints by Washington newsmen, by the American Society of Newspaper Editors, The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalistic fraternity, and the American Newspaper Publishers Association that news is being suppressed finally gained the attention of the House Government Information Committee in 1955. As a result, Rep. Moss, head of the committee, sent an inquiry to various government departments posing 80 queries. The answers were expected to disclose "whether information from government sources is sufficiently available to inform the people on the activity of their government." A Senate committee also started a probe.

Newspapermen throughout the land hoped public interest would be aroused by the investigation, but a fear that the effort of the committees would meet obstruction was sounded by James S. Pope, executive editor of The Louisville Courier-Journal and Times. "There will be frenzied efforts in the national capital to block the committees' investigation," he said.

Said Rep. Moss: "We can determine the basic information policies of the federal agencies and find out, once and for all, whether the guide lines for the release of information are clearly drawn or whether there is arbitrary and capricious action because of a lack of definite, consistent policy."

THEN WHAT? Recognition by congressional committees that there is something to investigate is in itself promising. But unless the congressmen start with an aggressive spirit alive to the fact that public rights are deeply involved, news stories of the investigation cannot incite the desired demand from the people for correction of the attitude of public servants.

Improvement can result if there is an aroused public interest that will make Congress and the executive departments change their ways. But the voice of the people will have to be raised. Newspapermen alone cannot do it and the congressional committee itself can be faced with government employes who will refuse to answer questions upon orders of their superiors.

First Photo Is Taken In Trumbull Court

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A newspaper photographer took a picture of a hearing in Common Pleas Court today—the first photograph ever allowed in a Trumbull County court while it was in session. The judge gave permission in advance.

Photographer Robert Semple, using a speed graphic press camera without flash, snapped Judge William M. McLain, Mayor William C. Burbank, city councilmen and other city officials at a hearing aimed at untangling the city's financial knot.

Taken from the back of the courtroom, the picture went unnoticed by the principals in the mandamus action brought by the city solicitor seeking to force approval of an appropriation measure.

The Democratic-controlled council had passed a $1,291,403 appropriation measure but Mayor Burbank vetoed it because it failed to provide for nine administrative appointees. Republicans on the council upheld the veto, and city employees have been going unpaid.

Recently several judges in Ohio and others throughout the country have permitted pictures in open court, although they are banned by Canon 35 of the American Bar Association, adopted by the Ohio Supreme Court as a rule for Ohio courts.

The Cleveland Press has asked the State Supreme Court to rescind the rule, and leave courtroom photographs up to the trial judge.

The Press based its case on pictures taken last Feb. 9 at a mock hearing arranged in the court of Common Pleas Judge Joseph H. Silbert. The judge and other principals said they were unaware the photographer was snapping pictures.

Chief Justice Carl Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court delayed a decision on the Press' request, saying he wanted to study various bar association debates on the subject which will probably be completed by next September.

On Aug. 20, 1953, Judge Silbert found three press employees guilty of contempt for a picture taken in his court during the arragnment of a former probate judge on an embezzlement charge. The State Supreme Court upheld Silbert's sentencing of City Editor Louis Clifford to a $500 fine and an hour in custody, and $100 suspended fines against reporter Sam Giamo and photographer James Thomas.

Indians Blast 3 Homers To Defeat Kansas City A's 5-2

Score Captures First Victory

Wertz Gets Four Hits In Four Trips

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Surpassing their previous total extra base power, the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night backed the five-hit pitching of Herb Score for a 5-2 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics.

Rocky Colavito, Al Rosen and Vic Wertz homered, and Wertz and Jim Busby doubled in the nine-hit Indian attack.

In their first six games, the Indians could collect only one double and three homers.

Score, 22-year-old lefthander, struck out eight and walked four in chalking up his first victory of the year. He showed a good mixture of fast ones and fine curves, although he was not as fast as in his two-hit loss to Chicago. His strikeout total now is 18.

Wertz's homer over the wall in right center, well over 390 feet away, was his fourth straight hit in the game and his ninth hit in 10 official times at bat. The first baseman, struck by polio toward the end of last season, has gotten on base in 14 out of his last 15 times at the plate, counting walks and being hit by a pitched ball.

Colavito's homer in the first inning with one aboard was his first in his major league career.

For Rosen, who led the American League in home runs for two seasons, it was his first of the season and the 178th of his career.

The successive doubles by Wertz and Busby made the third run of the first inning.

The Indians pinned the defeat on lefthander Bobby Shantz, forced to leave the game in the fourth inning because of a pulled muscle in his right side. He had given up four runs on six hits, including a pair of homers.

Lopez — Hector, not Al—gave Score most of his trouble. The third baseman got three of the Athletics' five hits, including a double and a bunt.

Score blanked the A's until the sixth when Gus Zernial walked with two away and Bill Renna doubled past Rosen to knock in a run.

For this afternoon's game Manager Al Lopez assigned Early Wynn to pitch against Lou Kretlow, a righthander.

Track Stars Cite Many AAU Violations, Demand Overhaul

By The Associated Press

The Amateur Athletic Union, a frequent controversial body almost since its founding, remained in the news today on both sides of the country as its president upheld the integrity of its veterean secretary-treasurer and several former track stars called for a general over-hauling of the organization.

President Carl H. Hansen of Oakland, Calif., said in a prepared statement that "where we have 'bad apples' . . . we will rid ourselves of them" but Mr. (Daniel J. Ferris, AAU secretary, is from another orchard entirely."

Hansen's statement was in answer to a charge made against Ferris by John Fulton, former Stanford track star. Fulton charged Ferris approved an excessive expense account for him for a trip to Canada. Ferris lost no time denying it.

"I do rely entirely on the outstanding character and spotless record of Mr. Ferris earned over a period of more than 49 years devoted to service in amateur sports," said Hansen. He told me by phone that the charges are utterly irresponsible and without foundation."

A few hours later on a television program (Dumont) Elmore Harris, a 600-yard star from 1945-47, and Roscoe Browne, former 1,000-yard national indoor champion, called for liberalizing of the AAU rules regarding the definition of an amateur and punishment of promoters who violate the rules by paying athlete excess expense monies.

Harris, and Browne, along with Joe Nowicki, former half-mile collegiate titleholder from Fordham, Jim Herbert, a one-time great running star for New York University, and Fulton related in a Life Magazine story by Jack Newcombe how they flouted the amateur rules by accepting payoffs in expense money or cash.

"I never ran unless I got my price," Harris was quoted. "Maybe only a couple of us out of five or six starters were paid. But the promoters knew that without us they didn't have a race."

Nowicki was quoted as saying, "it was the practice to talk with other runners and find out what they were getting. If the man you were beating got more than you did, you asked for more the next time." When the Wes Santee case broke, I thought it was unfair to start enforcing rules that have been waived for years. I know AAU officials who, when they were competing, took just as much as Santee did."

Santee was suspended for life by the AAU for accepting excessive expense monies.

"I got paid bonuses, but I know I was as pure in performance as the most rabid amateur." Browne was quoted as saying.

"Some meets were run strictly for profit—that's why I demanded 'liberal expenses," said Herbert. "Sure I made more money than AAU rules permit but I didn't make a living out of it. When I retired, I didn't have five dollars in the banks."

One of Six Football Playing Brothers Dies

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gresham Hugh Poe, 75, retired investment broker and one of the "Six Little Poes" who established a great football tradition at Princeton University, died Wednesday at a convalescent home. He had beene ill for several years.

Prominent socially and in financial circles, Poe was the youngest of the Baltimore brothers who went to Nassau Hall in the late 1800's and at the turn of the century. They won fame in the days when the Ivy League was the biggest thing in football, and their names are still held in respect at Princeton today.

Joseph Scores Split Decision Over Savage

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—No less a boxing sage than Jack Kearns today labeled New Orleans middleweight Charley Joseph championship timber and said the young stylist could 'go all the way."

Joseph, a 23-year-old high school student, used a talented left hand and a heady defense Wednesday night to score a 10-round split decision over mauling Milo Savage of Salt Lake City, second-ranked contender for the middleweight crown.

Kearns, who piloted Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight title and Joey Maxim to the light heavy throne, was an interested spectator.

"Why, this boy has everything a boxer could want," said Kearns. "He punches well and the way he moves he could dance circles around any middleweight today, and that includes all of them."

Joseph convinced more than 5,900 fans and a national television audience he easily deserves the No. 9 middleweight ranking he holds. He puzzled Savage with his blinding speed during the early rounds and his defense neutralized Savage's furious attack in the late stanzas.

But the officials were split on the verdict. Referee Roland Brown had Joseph ahead, 5 rounds to 4 with 1 even, and Judge Eddie Brown tabbed him 4-3-3. Judge Charles Dabney saw Savage the winner, 4-3-3, three even. The AP card had Joseph a 5-3-2 winner.

Joseph weighed 159, Savage 161.

Ted Williams' Foot Is Slow To Get Well

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams, Boston's slugging outfielder, isn't recovering from his sore foot as quickly as he had hoped.

"I'm doing everything I can to bring the foot around but it just doesn't seem to respond," Williams said Wednesday after the Red Sox' 4-1 loss to Washington.

Williams has suffered bleeding in the foot and has not been able to play regularly since the second game of the season. Wednesday he was a pinchhitter for the third straight game but did not stay in the contest.

GET GLASSES! HE DID — For years baseball fans have taunted umpires with the chant "get glasses you bum." This year they won't be able to yell that at Frank Umont because the American League umpire got himself a pair of glasses. Umont, above, inspects the spectacles just after he wore them to umpire a Kansas City-Detroit game.

Jr. Baseball Meeting Set For Monday

A meeting of the Salem Junior Baseball Leagues has been called for Monday April 30, at 7 p.m. in the American Legion Hall. All managers, coaches, umpires, scorekeepers, the Legion Baseball committee and League officers are requested to be present.

A discussion on the rules, score keeping, and umpires will head the program.

This year's program will include one group 17-19, one Legion Team 15-17, four teams 13-15, six teams 11-13, six teams, 9-11, four or more teams 7½-8¾.

It is hoped that the diamonds at Memorial Park will be ready for the start of the season, so that one game a night can be played instead of a double-header.

The youngest group will play in the morning. Practice schedules will be set up for all classes at the meeting. Managers must turn in all uniforms and equipment or bring a list of the equipment they have on hand. Sekelys, Youngstown Kitchens, Eljer and Fishers News should bring in all uniforms for they will get new ones this year.

The Junior Baseball season will officially open on June 11.

Disciplinary Action Awaited Against OSU

CHICAGO (AP)—K. L. Wilson, Big Ten Commissioner, is expected to take some kind of disciplinary action today against Ohio State.

It probably will be in the form of a reprimand.

Wilson's action follows a study of Ohio State athletics, during which he made four trips to the Buckeye campus. The inquiry lasted about three months. It was touched off by reports that football coach Woody Hayes made "loans" or "gifts" to his players.

Cronin To Be Honored

BOSTON (AP) — Boston General Manager Joe Cronin will be honored for his election into baseball's Hall of Fame prior to the Red Sox-Detroit night game July 20.

Olympic Hopefuls To Clash In Relays

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Penn Relays, one of the nation's big pre-Olympic track meets, is expected to have a strong local tinge.

Perhaps the outstanding local favorite in the two-day event starting Friday will be Villanova's Don Bragg in the pole vault. Bragg, who has cleared 15 feet, igures to better the meet mark of 14-4½, which he holds.

Penn's John Haines is one of the favorites for the 100-yard dash but he can expect tough competition from another area sprinter, George Sprinter of Villanova. Haines, the national AAU indoor champion, has done the century in 9.5 this season, as has Sydnor.

Pirate One-Two Punch Whips Phils; Dodgers Rip Giants, Take Lead

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

The lightly regarded Pittsburgh Pirates, with little or no fanfare, are quietly developing a one-two punch that compares favorably with any two back-to-back hitters in the major leagues.

It is much too early to refer to them as a "devastating duo," but during the Pirates' first seven games, Dale Long and Frank Thomas have done all that could be expected of third-and fourth-place hitters—and more.

Only the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle-Yogi Berra combination has shown more power this season. The only other pair of sluggers who clearly outrank the Long-Thomas offensive are Brooklyn's Duke Snider and Roy Campanella. Snider, however, has not yet hit his true stride.

Pittsburgh, an overwhelming preseason choice to finish in the National League basement, has been the early season surprise, winning three of its seven games. Long and Thomas have been the dominating factors in all three triumphs.

Thomas rapped two singles Wednesday night, one of which drove in the run in the seventh inning that gave the Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. He also scored once. Long slammed two doubles and a single, batted in two runs and scored twice. Long is now hitting at a .429 clip, Thomas .346.

The Dodgers whipped the Giants 7-2 Wednesday night to take sole possession of first place in the National for the first time this season. Carl Erskine pitched the Brooks to their fourth consecutive victory with a seven-hitter.

St. Louis walloped the Chicago Cubs 6-0 to climb into third place behind the two-hit pitching of Harvey Haddix. Rain washed out the game between Cincinnati and the Braves.

In the American, the New York Yankees, made it seven victories in eight starts by vanquishing the Baltimore Orioles 4-2. The victory gave the defending champions a 1½-game lead over runner-up Chicago. The White Sox and Detroit had a day off.

Washington, another team playing a better brand of baseball than expected, upset the Boston Red Sox 4-1 at Fenway Park for its fourth victory in nine starts. Pedro Ramos handcuffed the Red Sox with three hits. Ex-Washington right-hander Bob Porterfield was the loser.

Herb Score pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 5-2 victory over Kansas City, yielding five hits and striking out eight for his first triumph. Home runs by rookie Rocky Colavito, Al Rosen and Vic Wertz eased the way. Bobby Shantz was the victim of all but Wertz's blast.

The Dodgers bombarded starter Jim Hearn and three Giant relievers for 13 hits, fielded spectacularly and ran the bases in dashing style. Gil Hodges walloped a home run, double and single, Pee Wee Reese distinguished himself at shortstop with 11 chances, several of them difficult ones, and Jackie Robinson stole home.

Redlegs Off To Same Start As Last Year

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs so far this year have produced almost an exact carbon copy of their floundering 1955 start in the National League pennant race.

A year ago, the Reds started the season with admittedly weak pitching but a lot of power. They lost five of their first six games—it later became 11 of 13. The pitching during that time wasn't grade a stuff, of course, but it was adequate.

But the hitters didn't hit with men on bases. They got 11 home runs in those first six games but most of them came with the bases empty.

When this season opened 10 days ago, the pitching again was figured to be weak but the hitting looked even more powerful than in 1955. The team now has lost five of the first six, just as a year ago. Once again the pitching, for the most part hasn't been too bad but once again the hitters, with the exception of Ray Jablonski, haven't been hitting with men on base.

This year the Reds have hit 10 home runs but except for a couple by Jablonski most of them also have come with the bases empty.

To carry the carbon copy comparison a bit farther, here are some more figures based on one victory and five defeats in the first six games (the tie with Chicago last Sunday isn't counted):

Last year, Redleg pitchers allowed 75 hits and 41 runs in the first six games. There was one complete game pitching performance. This year they have given up 68 hits and 38 runs. Two pitchers have gone the full route.

In 1955, the Redlegs accumulated 23 runs in 54 hits in six games. This year they have scored 22 runs on 55 hits.

Jablonski, who has been the one-man batting attack thus far, has driven in 11 of those runs.

The Redlegs came home today for a day of rest before they open a long home stand against Chicago here tomorrow night. The game with Milwaukee at Milwaukee Wednesday night was postponed because of bad weather.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts said he probably would pitch either Art Fowler or Johnny Klippstein against the Cubs Friday night.

TRACKMEN WIN 20 WATCHES—University of Michigan track team members and the coach set something of a record when they returned from the Ohio relays with 20 watches among them. At Ann Arbor, Mich., they are: Front row, Ron Wallingford 2, Robin Virian 2, Bob Brown 2, Laird Sloan 2, Dick Flodin 3, and Bob Rudisell 3; top row, one each, Mark Booth, Ralph Gray, Geert Keilstrup, Tom Hendricks, Dave Owen, and Coach Don Canham, who was awarded one for refereeing the meet.

Bobo Olson's Manager Admits Many Boxing Rule Violations

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—An open admission of many rule violations by one of California's top fight managers set the stage for today's final hearing in a drawn-out statewide boxing investigation.

Three witnesses remain to be called, including the return of reluctant Jim Murray, fight promoter of San Francisco and Richmond, Calif.

Manager Sid Flaherty of San Francisco, whose stable of some 25 boxers includes middleweight Carl, (Bobo) Olson, Wednesday brushed aside the protests of his attorney and admitted:

1. He acted as co-promoter of many fights throughout northern California, although state rules forbid managers taking part in matchmaking.

2. Often had more than the permissible three fighters on a single card. "We probably have violated that rule more than we should have," he said.

3. Accepted fees as a "booking agent" but never got a booking agent's license. No California fight manager has such a license.

4. Followed the "common practice to feed and wine" visitors at training camps and his guests may have included boxing enforcement officials.

Flaherty's willingness to talk was a sharp change from the silence and failing memory of Bennie Ford, San Francisco fight promoter and president of California Boxing Enterprises, Inc., of which Flaherty has been called the boss.

Flaherty refused to talk only about the interest of James D. Norris, and Truman Gibson, president and executive-secretary of the International Boxing Club, as stockholders in California Boxing Enterprises.

East Palestine Wins Triangular Meet

The East Palestine Bulldogs came out on top in a triangular meet involving them, Leetonia and Greenford at East Palestine last night. The Bulldogs piled up 78 points, Leetonia gathered 58 and Greenford scored 15.

Bush of East Palestine captured first in the discus, tied for first in the high jump and came in second in the 100 yard dash to lead the winners in the scoring department. He got off a 148 foot 5¾ inch throw in the discus and went 5 feet 6 inches in the high jump.

Harvey Tullis of Leetonia captured his specialty, the mile, in 4 minutes and 57 seconds. Tullis has been running under 5 minutes consistently this year.

Bob Dimko dominated the hurdles as he captured wins in both events.

The Leetonia tracksters will travel to the Ohio Wesleyan Relays this Saturday.

Rain, Clouds Cover North Half Of U. S.

By The Associated Press

Rainy and cloudy weather prevailed over broad areas of the northern half of the country today while it was fair and mild over most of the southern sections.

The rain, which hit the mid-continent Wednesday and extended from Kentucky to Michigan Wednesday night, moved eastward. Showers fell in western Pennsylvania and West Virgnia and there was general rainfall in the Ohio Valley.

The heavy rain which fell in sections of Florida ended during the night and thunderstorms spread south and eastward, mostly along the East Coast. Rain extended into New York City and Washington. Nearly 2 inches of rain fell in Orlando, Fla., in 24 hours.

Man Who Bungled Bank Holdup Jailed

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—A former town marshal who thoroughly bungled an attempted bank holdup pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 15 years in prison by Federal Judge Roy Shelbourne Wednesday.

Robert Herman Maxey, 52, contended he "blacked out" after he entered the Citizens Deposit Bank of Arlington last Feb. 10. But psychiatrists ruled him legally sane.

Here is how officials described the bungled holdup attempt:

Maxey thought the bank closed an hour earlier than it did, so he aroused suspicions of a woman who tried to enter the bank's locked door. She notified authorities.

After scooping up more than $7,000, Maxey was met in front of the building by a posse organized during the robbery. The pistol he had used in the holdup wouldn't fire. He had used the wrong ammunition.

And officers discovered his car, parked near the bank, wouldn't start. It had to be towed away.

A movie, discussion of the fair, club activities and other items of business means a full evening for the Mahoning County Baby Beef Club at 8 p.m. Monday at Greenford School.

The Grand National Livestock Exposition movie will be shown. Consideration will also be given the 1956 steer show and sale at the Canfield Fair.

4-H Electric Kits Available

With the addition in 1956 of a new Advanced (third year) 4-H electric project there is now a series of three new 4-H electric projects.

For the first year a gismo board (to explain simple circuits), a 230 volt test lamp, a heavy duty extension cord, toy electric motor and a table lamp are made. Material for these may be purchased individually or a complete kit may be ordered from your 4-H Advisor for $7.25.

For the 2nd year a portable utility lamp, simple thermostat (battery) time lag fuse block (overload protection for motors), a simple buzzer (battery) and a gismo board (to explain operation of a 3 way switch) are assembled. Materials may be purchased individually or a complete kit may be ordered from the advisor for $9.50.

The 3rd year project has no kit but the members select work items from the project book and builds those which are of particular value to them. All projects stress safety and are of equal value to urban and farm boys and girls. Because the work is best done at a club meeting, these electric projects are best organized as a separate club or group (with their own advisor) within the general club. They offer basic electrical training and also result in several practical and useful items.

Rhubarb-Peach Cobbler Is Spring-Like Treat

Bring a touch of summer to your table these cold, blustery days by serving a rhubarb and peach honey cobbler

An excellent dessert for family or company meals, use:

1 box (1 pound) quick frozen rhubarb (thawed), 1 box (10 ounces) quick frozen sliced peaches, thawed, 1½ tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2-3 cup honey, 1 cup sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons double acting baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon mace or nutmeg, 1-3 cup butter or other shortening, ¼ cup milk.

Drain the rhubarb and peaches, reserving the juices. Combine juices with tapioca and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add honey. Remove from heat. Add rhubarb and peaches to the thickened juice. Pour into 2-quart baking dish.

Sift flour once, measure and add baking powder, sugar, salt and nutmeg, and sift again. Cut in the shortening. Add milk gradually, stirring until a soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 10 seconds, or enough to shape. Pat or roll dough to fit top of baking dish. Cut several slits in center and adjust the dough over fruit mixture, opening slits with knife to permit escape of steam. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Serve hot or cold, with honey sweetened whipped cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Spring Fever? Try Ham

Baked ham delights springtime appetites. So we asked Mary Lou Ogan, home economist for a leading Chicago packer, to give us some suggestions. Here they are:

The fully cooked, ready-to-slice-and-serve ham is a good choice. Spread with orange marmalade or currant jelly and serve cold, it has an interesting flavor difference. Or serve it hot with a conventional brown sugar glaze.

Curried ham on rice recipe, below, introduces a new seasoning to use with ham and brings a light touch of spring to the table.

Curried Ham on Rice

Four cups cubed, cooked ham; 1-3 cup butter or margarine, ½ cup chopped onion, 6 tablespoons flour, 2½ teaspoons curry powder, 1¼ teaspoons salt, 1½ teaspoons sugar, 1 chicken bouillon cube, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup pineapple syrup, drained from pineapple chunks, 4 to 5 cups cooked rice.

Melt butter in large saucean. Stir in onion and flour. Add seasonings and mix thoroughly. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water. Stir liquid ingredients into flour and seasonings. Continue stirring until thick.

Add ham cubes and stir to thoroughly combine. Cover and allow to cook over low heat for about 20 minutes. The curry sauce will be thin. Serve curried ham over rice with suggested accompaniments.

Accompaniments: Pineapple chunks, banana slices, tomato wedges, blanched peanuts, toasted coconut, French-fried rings, hard-cooked eggs, chopped chutney.

Have you wondered what gives John Liber's Prize Brand Bacon that distinctive old country - smoked flavor?

It's the curing process — 21 days over apple and hickory smoke. It takes time to impart that tangy, distinctive flavor you remember from "down on the farm." No one has ever been able to duplicate that smokehouse flavor.

Try John Liber's Prize Brand Bacon in the slab or in slices in the one-pound cellophane wrapped package.

Stuffed Lobster Tails Are Easily Prepared

If you want to serve a real gourmet dish but don't want to spend a lot of time in the kitchen, here is a suggestion— stuffed South African lobster tails.

Easy on the budget too, because a six-ounce tail makes a generous serving for each person.

Use: 4 6-ounce South African rock lobster tails; 1 tablespoon butter, ¾ cup milk, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 egg, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon Angostura aromatic bitters.

Drop frozen tails into boiling salted water. When water reboils begin counting time. Cook 3 minutes more than the individual weight in ounces of the tails. For instance, boil 6 ounce tails 9 minutes. If tails are already thawed, boil only 1 minute more than individual weight. To remove meat from the shell, drench with cold water, cut off membrane with kitchen scissors and pull meat out in one piece. Flake. Melt butter in saucepan, add milk and bread crumbs. Simmer 2 minutes. Remove from fire. Add egg, salt, mustard and the flaked rock lobster meat. Mix well. Pack in shells loosely. Reheat in hot oven for 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Nutritional Problems Evident In Aged

Dr. W. H. Sebrell Jr., distinguished American nutritionist, former Director of the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., points out that nutritional problems usually are more difficult to handle in the aged.

Dr. Sebrell disourages large meals for the older citizen. Smaller mals served more frequently are better. Bulk is desirable for most older people but this presents a problem when chewing is difficult.

A srving of cereal and milk, therefore, has a real function in this problem. In addition to bulk and high quality protein, essential minerals and food energy, this combination contributes valuable B-vitamins. The ease of preparation, accessibility, low cost and wide variety are important too.

Cereal flake date muffns will please both young and old alike.

Date Muffins

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup chopped dates, 1 egg, beaten, ½ cup milk, 4 tablespoons melted fat, 1½ cups bran flakes or wholewheat flakes.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add dates. Combine egg, milk and slightly cooled fat. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in cereal flakes, being careful not to overmix. Fill well-greased muffin pans, 2½ inches in diameter, 2-3 full. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 to 18 minutes.

Eat-Between-Meals Is Here To Stay

The habit of eating between meals has become an accepted part of the American pattern of living.

Doctors Henreitta Fleck and Elizabeth Munves, nutrition authorities at New York University, report that most Americans now eat four times a day, many six. The evening snack habit has increased, also.

The word "snack" comes from the medieval Dutch word "snacken" — to snatch.

Those which provide energy without other nutrients interfere with good nutrition, crowd out protective foods or dull the appetite for balanced meals.

There is little disagreement about snacks. The social interaction of the coffee break, the drugstore get-together for the teenagers the aftnoon cofefe party for homemakers, the shared television snack, all contribute to emotional satisfaction.

Nutrition and medical authorities apprve of between-meal snacks, provided they do not interfere with three well-balanced meals a day.

Few foods can equal a serving of cereal and milk for a quick pick-up at home or at work. Not only does the cereal and milk serving supply quickly available energy, valuable B-vitamins and minerals. The cereal and milk snack is bland, easy to digest, economical, convenient and provides variety in taste and texture.

Rumanian Meat Balls

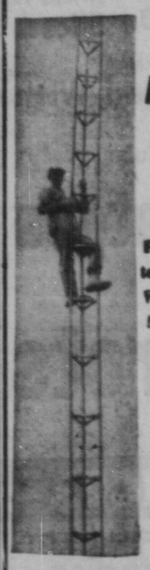

One egg, beaten, 4 cups cornflakes, slightly crushed, 1½ pounds ground beef, ¼ cup chopped onion, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1¼ cups water or milk, ½ cup raisins, ¼ cup lemon juice, ¼ cup water.

Mix together thoroughly all ingredients except the raisins, lemon juice, and ½ cup water. Shape into 8 meat balls; brown in a greased frying pan; drain of excess fat. Add raisins, lemon juice and ¼ cup watr. Cover and cook slowly 30 minutes.

Animals Festive For Parties

Keep parties for preschool children simple. This is the advice of Dr. Miriam Lowenberg, head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition at Pennsylvania State University. Dr. Lowenberg, expert in child nutrition, recommends that parties for preschool children be celebrated at mealtime if possible.

Animal cookies made with rice cereal and marshmallow and served with slightly tinted pink milk make ideal party snack for school children. Not only are these cookies easy to make, but they are easy for the child to handle. In addition to food energy, the cereal and milk combination contribute protein, the B-complex vitamins and minerals.

Dr. Lowenberg says that most very young children prefer milk at lukewarm temperature. The four year-old begins to appreciate chilled milk. The usual five or six-year old goes along with adults in liking icy milk. Milk tinted pink with a few drops of vegetable coloring makes the occasion a "special" one.

One-quarter cup butter or margarine, ½ pound marshmallows, ¼ teaspoon salt, 5 cups oven-toasted rice cereal, raisins.

Combine butter or margarine, marshmallows, and salt in large saucepan or chicken fryer. Melt butter and marshmallows over low heat. Mix thoroughly. Add oven toasted rice cereal; stir until cereal is coated with marshmallow mixture. Turn onto buttered cookie sheet; press ½inch thick. Cool. Cut into fancy shapes using animal cookie cutters. Use raisin bits to make eyes.
